Trait for November: Gratefulness

Definition: Gratefulness – warmly or deeply appreciative of kindness or benefits received; thankful.

Research has shown that people who experience gratitude have increased feelings of connectedness and improved relationships. Genuine and consistent gratitude can lead to fewer negative emotions, greater overall health, and improved academic achievement.

Ask your student what they have learned about gratefulness this month!

Our staff is so grateful for the amazing support you provide us, and the delightful children you send to us each day!

Learning Assistance Program

Mrs. Vogt, our East Ridge LAP paraeducator, will be supporting some kindergarten students this year. The Learning Assistance Program (LAP) is a state-funded program established by the Washington State Legislature in 1979. LAP services are part of the options available to accelerate student growth in reading readiness skills and to improve reading literacy. The purpose of LAP is to provide supplemental academic support if your student is performing below grade level, and operates in addition to your child's regular classroom reading instruction.

If you have questions about your child's participation in the LAP program, please contact Sarah White, principal, or Brenda Vogt, LAP paraeducator.
